1 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Defendant Innovation Ventures, LLC, dba Living Essentials
2 ("Living Essentials"), will and hereby does move the court to enter an order allowing the filing
3 under seal of Exhibit C to the declaration of Scott Henderson in support of Defendant's Opposition
4 to Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary Injunction. This motion is based upon this notice of motion
5 and motion, the points and authorities, the authorities cited therein, the declaration of Scott
6 Henderson and Exhibit C thereto (both submitted with the Opposition to Plaintiff's Motion for 7 Preliminary Injunction), and the proposed order. As there is no protective order yet entered in this 8 case, and Exhibit C is the report of a highly proprietary and confidential study, the Court should 9 grant this motion to file under seal and designate it as for plaintiff's outside counsel's eyes only or 10 other designation as this Court deems appropriate.

INNOVATION VENTURES, LLC dba LIVING ESSENTIALS' POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO FILE EXHIBIT "C" TO
DECLARATION OF SCOTT
HENDERSON UNDER SEAL

Courtroom.: 1, Fourth Floor
Judge: Irma E. Gonzalez

Date Filed: 07/01/08

1           Exhibit C to the declaration of Scott Henderson is a highly proprietary and confidential
 2 report of a clinical study conducted by Defendant Innovation Ventures, LLC, dba Living Essentials
 3 (“Living Essentials”). The clinical study contains confidential and highly sensitive business
 4 information that is closely protected and maintained by Living Essentials. Declaration of Scott
 5 Henderson, ¶ 21; see also Exhibit C (not electronically filed; submitted to chambers). It has not
 6 been publicly disclosed, and if this information is disclosed to others, in particular to competitors or 7 potential competitors of Living Essentials, this could cause significant harm to Living Essentials
 8 and its business. Id.

9           A confidential document may be filed under seal and restrictions on its disclosure imposed if 10 good cause is shown. Kamakana v. City and County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1180 (9th Cir.
 11 2006) (no presumption of public access attaches to such documents); FRCP 26. “Good cause” is 12 demonstrated where disclosure of “confidential research, development, or commercial information”
 13 may cause harm. FRCP 26(c)(7). As a result, courts routinely authorize the filing of unpublished
 14 clinical studies under seal, recognizing their confidential and sensitive nature. See, e.g. Bracco
 15 Diagnostics, Inc. v. Amersham Health Inc., 2007 WL 2085350 **9-10 (D.N.J. July 18, 2007)
 16 (sealing clinical study and “wholly disagree[ing]” with competitors’ argument that it would be 17 improper to protect clinical results of the product’s effectiveness); Grundberg v. Upjohn Co., 140
 18 F.R.D. 459, 465 (D. Utah 1991) (cases cited therein).

19           In the present case, good cause exists. Plaintiff has not formerly made the entirety of 20 Exhibit C publicly available, and has kept it under strict confidentiality. The Five Hour Diet
 21 product is an energy supplement in an energy shot form, and as such the complete study contained
 22 in Exhibit C detailing its clinical properties goes to the heart of its competitive advantage. A
 23 competitor looking to enter the energy shot market (aka Plaintiff Hansen Beverage) will gain
 24 tremendous advantage by learning the clinical properties of the market leader, and should not gain
 25 such advantage simply by surreptitiously filing a lawsuit against it. Asch/Grossbardt Inc. v. Asher
 26 Jewelry Co., Inc., 2003 WL 660833 *3 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 28, 2003) (courts should enter orders
 27 limiting distribution of confidential competitor information lest a lawsuit unwittingly be used as a
 28 “predatory” practice to gain competitive intelligence). Conversely, disclosure to a competitor

1 would result in Living Essentials' loss of a competitive edge it has heretofore closely guarded. It
2 would take the hard efforts made by Living Essentials and simply hand them to a competitor to
3 benefit its own product development without having to itself incur the cost of such a study. Id. As 4 such, this information falls within the class of information recognized in this District to constitute
5 outside attorney's eyes only material that should only be submitted under seal. S.D. Cal. L.R.
6 Appendix A "Approved Form of Protective Order" at ¶¶ 3, 4(b), 12.

7 Thus, without an order sealing, Living Essentials will be placed in the untenable position of 8 having to choose between effectively opposing an overbearing attempt to enjoin sales of the Five
9 Hour Diet product (to which this clinical study is crucial) and handing away highly confidential and 10 competitively valuable information to a major competitor. It is for these reasons that good cause
11 more than exists to allow Living Essentials to file Exhibit A under seal and have it designated as for 12 outside attorney's eyes only. Bracco Diagnostics, Inc., 2007 WL 2085350 at **9-10.

13 Given these concerns, Living Essentials requests narrow relief. First, the Court should enter
14 an order accepting the filing of Exhibit C under seal. Second, the Court should order that, while a
15 copy be provided to plaintiff's litigation counsel, disclosure of the study or its contents be restricted
16 to plaintiff's outside counsel only. As the Southern District has already accepted, this properly 17 balances plaintiff's need to use the information in formulating a reply, and the unacceptable risk of 18 utilization or inadvertent disclosure from highly sensitive commercial information to any employee
19 of Hansen Beverage. S.D. Cal. L.R. 3, 4(b); Appendix A "Approved Form of Protective Order"
20 documents should be designated outside attorney's eyes only and only filed under seal when they 21 contain information "considered to be most sensitive by the party, including but not limited to trade 22 secret or other confidential research, development, financial or other commercial information");
23 Asch/Grossbardt, Inc. v. Asher Jewelry Co., Inc., 2003 WL 660833 at * 2 ("Ample precedent exists
24 for limiting disclosure of highly sensitive, confidential or proprietary information to outside
25 attorneys and experts, particularly when there is some risk that a party might use the information or 26 disseminate it to others who might employ it to gain a competitive advantage over the producing 27 party."); Blanchard and Co., Inc. v. Barrick Gold Corp., 2004 WL 737485 *9 (E.D. La. Apr. 5, 28 2004).

1        As stated in the declaration of Nathan Hamler in support of motion to seal, submitted
 2 herewith, prior to filing this motion, Plaintiff's counsel was informed of Living Essentials' intent to 3 pursue this motion. In addition, Living Essentials offered to provide Plaintiff's counsel a copy of 4 Exhibit C to the Henderson declaration in advance of a ruling on this motion, provided that
 5 Plaintiff's counsel agreed to treat the document as confidential -- attorneys' eyes (outside counsel)
 6 only pending the resolution of this motion. (See Hamler Decl., ¶ 2, Ex. A.) Plaintiff's counsel
 7 responded that they would agree to treat the document as confidential -- attorneys' eyes and experts'
 8 eyes only, provided that Living Essentials agree that Dr. Davis, an employee of Hansen Beverage
 9 Company who submitted an "expert" declaration with Hansen's motion for preliminary injunction,
 10 be allowed to review it. (Id. ¶ 3). Because Dr. Davis is not an outside expert but is a Hansen
 11 employee Living Essentials has not provided a copy of Exhibit C to opposing counsel as of the 12 filing of this motion.

13        For the foregoing reasons, the proposed order submitted herewith should be entered.

Case No. 08-cv-1166 IEG (POR)

DECLARATION OF NATHAN R. HAMLER IN SUPPORT OF LIVING ESSENTIALS' MOTION TO FILE EXHIBIT C TO DECLARATION OF SCOTT HENDERSON UNDER SEAL

Courtroom.: 1, Fourth Floor
Judge: Irma E. Gonzalez

Date Filed: 07/01/08

I, NATHAN R. HAMLER, DECLARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. I am an attorney at law duly licensed to practice law in the State of California, and am an associate with the law firm of Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky and Popeo, P.C, local counsel for Defendant Innovation Ventures, LLC dba Living Essentials. I have personal knowledge of the facts set forth in this declaration and could and would competently testify as to the same.

1       2. I attempted to contact litigation counsel for Plaintiff Hansen Beverage Company
2 concerning the filing of Exhibit C to the declaration of Scott Henderson under seal. First, on 3 August 29, 2008, I attempted to call Edward McIntyre but I was informed he would not be returning
4 for the day. I also left a voicemail message Allison Pivonka. Finally, I sent an email to Mr.
5 McIntyre, Ms. Pivonka and Mr. Smith, a true and correct copy of which is attached hereto as 6 Exhibit A. In that email, I informed Plaintiffs' counsel that Living Essential would be filing a
7 motion to seal an exhibit to a declaration--a clinical study. I also indicated that I would promptly
8 provide a copy of Exhibit C to the Henderson declaration to Plaintiff's counsel provided that
9 Plaintiff's counsel agreed to treat this document as confidential -- attorneys' eyes (outside counsel)
10 only pending the resolution of Living Essential's motion to seal.

11       3. Plaintiff's counsel responded that they would agree to treat Exhibit C as confidential
12 outside counsel and experts' eyes only, provided that Dr. Davis be allowed to see the document.
13 (See Exhibit A). I am informed and believe, however, that Dr. Davis is not an outside expert but is 14 an employee of Plaintiff Hansen Beverage Company.

15       4. Upon receiving Plaintiff's response I emailed Plaintiff's counsel indicating that,
16 while the motion to seal is pending, Living Essentials could only provide a copy of Exhibit C to the 17 Henderson Declaration if Plaintiff agreed to limit disclosure to outside counsel only, or to an 18 outside expert who is not also an employee of Hansen (who also agrees to appropriate 19 confidentiality restrictions). (See Exhibit A).

20 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the state of California that the foregoing
21 is true and correct and that this declaration is executed this 29th day of August, 2008 at San Diego,
22 California.

Bill,

As Dr. Davis is not an independent expert but a Hansen employee (if I understand correctly, their technology director), Living Essentials cannot agree to allow Dr. Davis to review this document pending resolution of our impending motion to seal. Living Essentials will, however, agree to allow outside counsel or an independent expert who is not also a Hansen employee and who agrees to appropriate confidentiality restrictions to review the exhibit on which we are filing a motion to seal.

If Hansen is in agreement with this, let me know. Otherwise, I cannot provide a copy of this document to you in advance of an appropriate Court order.

Nate

We are short-handed today; Ed is taking his daughter to college.

We will agree to treat the report as "confidential -- outside attorney and expert witness eyes only" (including Dr. Davis) provided that the report is not already in the public domain, subject of course to an application to the court for relief on appropriate grounds.

Counsel:

I understand Ed is out the rest of today, and I left a voice mail for Ms. Pivonka. As indicated in that voice mail, we are filing Living Essentials' opposition papers to Hansen's motion for a preliminary injunction today. One of the documents we will be submitting -- an exhibit to a declaration -- is a clinical study that we are moving to file under seal and to have the document deemed as confidential --attorneys' eyes only (outside counsel only) for purposes of this litigation.

We will be filing and serving our papers shortly. If you can agree to treat the document on which we are moving to file under seal as confidential -- attorneys' eyes (outside counsel) only pending the resolution of our motion to seal, we will also provide you with a copy of that document this afternoon. Please let me know as soon as possible whether you will so agree.
